

April 06, 2006

AccessLine Takes Over Texas

AccessLine Communications may be nestled in easy-going Bellevue, Washington but the provider of hosted VoIP is gearing up to make its mark in no-holds-barred Texas.

For starters, the company has announced the central Texas market launch for the new retail version of SmartVoice Service – AccessLine’s hosted VoIP service. Specifically designed and built for small and medium businesses, SmartVoice Service promises to deliver as much as 50 percent savings over traditional business phone service rates. AccessLine's SmartVoice Service makes it easy for customers to transition from their current legacy phone system by combining local, long distance, and toll free phone service and eliminating the need for additional phone equipment investment.

AccessLine's SmartVoice Service is now available throughout central Texas including the Greater Austin-area, from Round Rock to San Marcos, and the Greater San Antonio-area, including New Braunfels. With the addition of these new markets, AccessLine continues to expand its nationwide network, currently covering more than 82% of the nation's top Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs).

In the meantime, AccessLine has also joined forces with AnyWARE Inc., an Austin-based telecommunications integrator. With this partnership, AccessLine will deliver VoIP local, long distance and toll-free services to small and medium businesses across Texas.

"AccessLine's SmartVoice Service offers small and medium-sized businesses the cost and feature advantages of VoIP technology without substantial upfront expense. Organizations can transition without having to replace or reconfigure existing PBX systems," said Gary Lubbering, AnyWARE's Vice President of Business Development. "We're excited to partner with AccessLine and offer their services to businesses throughout key markets in Texas, including Austin, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio."

Cindy Waxer is a Toronto-based freelance journalist specializing in business and technology. She has written for publications including TIME, Fortune Small Business, Business 2.0, Computerworld, Canadian Business, and Workforce Management. To see more of her articles, please visit Cindy Waxer's columnist page.